During the Riot

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—This afternoon a bloody affray took place between the police and the rioters when the mob tried to lynch a non-union motorman. The police rescued the man in apparently a dying condition. A noose was around his neck when he was rescued. The mob turned on the police and when the mounted reserves arrived they rode into the crowd injuring forty, who were taken to the hospitals. The attempt at lynching was made at Kensington avenue where the strike sympathizers stopped the car. Four policemen on the car were swept aside by the infuriated mob, and the motorman and conductor were dragged from their places of refuge within the car, while the mob fought against each other for a chance to strike the prisoners enroute to the sidewalk. Meanwhile the policemen fought for their own lives. Lieutenant Sykes arrived at the head of a mounted squad and finally after several furious onslaughts dispersed the mob. Twenty of the ring-leaders were arrested.

MOB CONDITIONS WORST
EVER KNOWN IN CITY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Every man on the regular police force has been called out for strike duty, and the enrollment of three thousand special police was begun today as a result of the street carmen's strike.

Street fighting was resumed at dawn following an attempt of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. to operate cars with non-unionists. Scores of union men in the outlying districts were unwilling to go to work on the street cars, which were attacked as soon as they appeared from the barns. Thousands walked to work through the rain.

Last night's rioting resulted in the taking of twenty police and thirty citizens to various hospitals. The mob conditions of yesterday, following the declaration of a strike on Saturday by the Amalgamated Union of Carmen, were the most serious ever experienced in this city. Cars were burned and wrecked by dynamite, causing a loss of thousands of dollars to the Rapid Transit Co. Policemen, outnumbered, had fractured skulls and bullet wounds galore. Innocent bystanders, including children, suffered from the clashes between police and strikers.

500 STRIKE BREAKERS
OF FOR PHILADELPHIA

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The first contingent of 500 men left New York yesterday afternoon for Philadelphia to work as strike breakers on the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.'s lines. It is expected that 2000 more will leave tomorrow.

BIXBY OBJECTS TO PROPOSED ROAD

Supervisors Vote to Give County Carnival of Products $1,000 For 1910 Celebration

Fred Bixby of the Alamitos Bixby ranch and manager of the Hellman ranch near Bay City, was before the Board of Supervisors today protesting against the carrying out of the plan proposed by P. A. Stanton for opening a road through the Hellman ranch from near Westminster to Bay City. A short time ago Stanton visited the supervisors and proposed that this road be opened and that another road leading across the Hellman ranch further north be abandoned. The district attorney and surveyor were appointed a committee to look into the matter, and it was thought the request of Stanton would be granted.

Now comes Bixby in opposition. He stated to the Board of Supervisors in session today, all members present except Supervisor Angle, that he was opposed to opening the road as proposed.

"Our district," said he "is in the furthest corner of the county, and until recently we have been unable to get any money spent on our roads. Now that money is being spent in this district, I am opposed to having it all put into this one road."

"This road will lead across the tide-lands where it will be expensive to build. Dirt would have to be hauled off the mesa to make the fills, and seven bridges at least would have to be built. It would cost no less than $5000 to build the road, and even then you would have the second hardest road in the county to keep up. The hardest is in the Santa Ana canyon. The Hellman and Bixby interests have deeded fully twenty miles of road to the county, and we ought to have those roads taken care of before this road is opened. Stanton ought to wait. The road now there is a mile out of the way for people this way, it is true, but it is a road used by people who are entitled to reach the ocean that way, and it is an easier road to keep up than this proposed road.

"The first road the county should open up in that country is a road north and south from Buena Park to the ocean. I think this road of Stanton's should be laid on the table."

Supervisor MacMullen said that many people do not realize that every street added to a district only divides the fund available in that district.

The matter was discussed, but no definite action taken.

$1000 for Carnival

Col. O. H. Coulter, chairman of the executive committee for the 1910 Orange County Carnival of Products, appeared before the supervisors and requested that the board have in mind the coming of the carnival and that the usual appropriation of $1000 for advertising the county through it would be a great help.

Chairman MacMullen stated that at the consultation among the supervisors recently it was decided that $1000 should be kept for that purpose, and that it was in order to make a motion assuring the carnival committee that the $1000 would be available after July 1. The motion was made by Supervisor Smith and was carried.

Voted to Amend

Supervisor Talbert moved to amend the resolution passed by the board at its last meeting granting the Southern California Sugar Co. a permit to place a pipeline along Delhi road. The amendment provided that the Board of Supervisors at any time might revoke the permit. The amendment was voted for by the four supervisors present.

The petition of J. B. Winslow to cut trees in the Tustin district was granted. The permit was approved by the Tustin Improvement Association.

The $6000 Randolph school district bonds were ordered advertised for sale on March 22.

Fails to Settle Vexed Question
in Opening Speech—Crisis
May Follow

LONDON, Feb. 21.—King Edward failed to cut the gordian knot, in his speech opening Parliament. His decision has precipitated a crisis between the Liberals on one side and the Nationalists and Laborites on the other. These three were supposed to have reached an agreement to form a coalition to support the ministerial program. It was expected the king would indicate whether he wanted the budget or the bill curtailing the power of the House of Lords taken up first. He failed to do this clearly, but hinted that he wants the budget first. The Nationalists and Laborites have warned Asquith that unless he positively assures them that the budget will not be taken up prior to the curtailment bill, they will not support the Liberal program.

Later his bed with his clothes found on top was discovered, with the prints of his bare feet leading away toward the hills.

MINERS WILL NOT STRIKE

President Lewis Announces a
General Raise in Wages
Is to be Made

PEORIA, Ill., Feb. 21.—Mine operators and miners of the Middle Eastern states, who faced the possibility of a great strike in the coal fields of this country, were assured today that all differences between the miners and operators will be settled amicably. President Thomas L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, sent the following statement, through the United Press exclusively:

"You can say that a joint conference will be held between the miners and operators, and that every miner in the districts of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Indiana and possibly Illinois, will get an advance in wages. There will be no strike, not even an interruption in work, pending the settlement of the matter at issue."

Lewis said the preliminary conference at Cincinnati Wednesday was for the purpose of issuing a call for a joint conference to settle the wage scale.

WAR GAME IS BEING PLAYED AT MANILA

City in State of Siege From An Attacking Land Force—
Navy is Umpire

MANILA, Feb. 21.—This city is theoretically in a state of siege today, with no hope of aid from the American fleet, reported to be rushing to the relief of the capital. The condition of the beleaguered garrison is serious. Theoretically shells are bursting in the streets from the artillery of the enemy.

A war game in an attack on Manila is in progress, with five thousand American troops engaged in the maneuvers. The navy was not invited to play in the war game, as the commanding general of the Philippines, Major General William Duval, and his board of umpires, wish to determine just what an attacking army from the land side can do. The defending forces under the command of Brigadier General Brush, total 1500. The attacking force of 3500 is under command of Brigadier General John J. Pershing. The maneuvers will last two weeks.

NEW GRAND JURY WILL BE DRAWN TO PROBE CAIRO RIOT

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 21.—The grand jury upon which were four negroes, was dismissed today. This is believed, foreshadowing the drawing of another jury to probe the killing of Alexander Halladay, killed in a mob attack on the jail of Thursday night of last week.

The fatal bullet was supposedly fired by the sheriff's deputies, among whom were eight negroes. After the attack his body lay for three hours in the snow in the jail yard. It is charged that his life could have been saved had medical attention been given him.

ENFORCED ABSTINENCE FROM WHISKEY CLEARED BRAIN

Several days in the county jail in one enforced abstinence from whiskey is lifting the cloud of insanity from the brain of Charles E. McKee, and the superior court this morning decided that he was not a fit subject for the insane asylum, as he is recovering his senses.

McKee, a lineman, cleaned out a Santa Fe O.V. smoker a few days ago, ran from the train to Dunstan's place on East Seventeenth street and was taken to the county jail. He was violent. A man of splendid physique, he was a difficult man to handle.

This morning he was before the insanity commission in the superior court. He talked sensibly. He admitted that it was whiskey that gave him the "spell." Often before when on spree he had had approaches to insanity, but not until this last spree did his mind give way entirely. He said that he has been drinking since he was 16 years old, he being 27 now, that he gets to drinking with friends,

HOMESEEEKERS ASK FOR SQUARE DEAL

Ask Sec. Ballinger to Rescind
Order Breaking up Line
for Yuma Land

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—The 156 men and women, who, desirous of claims in the soon to be opened Yuma reclamation tract, formed a home-seekers' line in front of the local United States land office several days ago, have organized and have sent telegrams to Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, asking him to rescind his order issued Saturday, breaking up the line. They have also telegraphed Senator Flint to use his influence in their favor. They threaten to form a flying wedge and force their way to the front in order to file their applications.

They hold tickets given them by the police, numbered according to their places in line, and on these will base their claims for priority. It may be necessary to call out the militia to prevent rioting on March 1, the day of the opening, if the affair is not settled satisfactorily before then.

Line Still in Position
The members of the Yuma land line are still holding their positions. The prospective home-seekers say they will remain, despite the orders received from Secretary Ballinger that the line will not be recognized on March 1, the day of the Yuma farms distribution here.

Melilot Or Sweet Clover

The following paper written by Prof. Ira Buell of Bellot College, was read on last Saturday evening before the Farmers' Club of Santa Ana:

"One of the most convincing proofs of the kindness of Mother Nature, or rather of a beneficent Providence, is that no sooner does a man feel need appear in the course of life than the missing element is at hand. This has been too often proven in the history of our state to be held in question, and no one doubts the prompt succession of supply to demand in future emergencies. One is not so much impressed in this great state by the wonderful results that have been wrought by her citizens as by the limitless reach of possibilities along the lines that they have projected. Her wealth of orange groves, of farm and garden products, has been won from a very small fraction of her surface. Her frowning mountains and desert wastes do more than simply separate her fertile areas. Through fire and flood they become a positive menace to life and progress in the state. Hence the cry for reforestation and the more insistent demand for the retaining of flood waters to their proper channels. These demands make apology for the presentation of facts that follow.

"A remarkable progress has been made across the interior states in the past twenty years by a new plant, but one which is destined to make great changes in the agricultural interests of our country. Half a century ago sweet clover was known only in New England. It appeared there as a roadside weed from 2 to 4 feet high. A little later it crossed the Alleghenies and made a larger growth in the Middle and Southern Atlantic states. Its spread into the Mississippi valley caused immediate alarm, followed by the outlawry of the weed list in each of the interior states. Public opinion almost without exception still maintains this view. Fifteen years ago it was almost unknown west of Chicago. Now it has full possession of our country roadsides, the lines of railway, the creek and river bottoms, and is in evidence on barren hill-slopes and abandoned gravel pits.

"The writer in his recent trip to California noticed its presence on the right of way as far as Central Kansas. It has already covered half of the continent in its westward march, and it seems to halt at nothing short of the Pacific. Its presence is inevitable, and 'let it come.' It is even now on the weed list in California. The prevailing opinion of it has been rather forcibly expressed by a newspaper correspondent, who thought it should be a prison offense to allow it to seed on one's premises. Between this view and that held by the chief agronomist in the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., who esteems it 'the most promising legume in existence,' the gulf is very wide, and before accepting either view one needs to possess a fair knowledge of the facts in the case.

"The place of sweet clover in the plant world is indicated by its name. It is a clover, a member of the great family which includes not only some of our most valued food and forage plants, but also all of the group of natural fertilizers that we know, the plants that by the help of their bacterial messmates secrete nitrogen from the air and give it up as plant food to the organism on which they subsist. Its place in the pulse family is between the two most valued forage plants in the order, red clover and alfalfa. Its kinship to the former is seen in blossoms, seed pod and seed, to the latter in leaf, stem and habit of growth and in the fact that its roots nourish the same organisms that give to alfalfa its vigor and fertilizing quality. This explains why agricultural experts recommend the sowing of the soil where sweet clover has grown on alfalfa fields. We would naturally expect therefore, that it would combine the good qualities of each, both as a forage and a fertilizer.

"But it has certain good qualities of its own. First of all it differs from every other plant of its family in being a biennial. This takes it completely out of the weed list and places it in the company of the great food producers in cultivation, the plants that store the products of their first year's growth in root, stem, leaf or blossom for the rapid second year growth and production of seed, as the beet, carrot, turnip, onion, cabbage and cauliflower. Not only are these plants prevented from becoming weeds by the two year period between seed and blossom, but these are the plants most dependent on human care for propagation. The plant has also the qualities that have made it most feared, great vigor of growth and adaptation to the widest possible range of soil and climatic conditions. It maintains itself equally well on barren hill sides and rich bottoms, on worn out cotton fields and in the stony sub-soils exposed by roadway cuts and fills. It withstands equally well winter frosts and summer droughts and affords abundant and vigorous growth not only when other forage is parched, but early and late in the season. Like all of the other legumes Melilot is rich in protein. Organic analysis gives to the plant the same food value as alfalfa. One set of analyses gives to it a little less protein than alfalfa, but more hydrocarbon; but another made at the Iowa experiment station gives it two per cent more protein than the latter.

"Its value as forage depends on condition and palatability. Melilot makes a very rank growth the second year and becomes hard and woody when mature. It must be cut when young and succulent. Then it is more leafy than either clover or alfalfa. It varies also in rankness of growth and in odor and taste in different places. The strain common in the East, South and Southwest is notably bitter and observers say that stock will not eat it unless driven by hunger. Prof. Piper of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, recognizing this, experimented for years, hoping to develop a bitterless strain by cross fertilization, but without results. He heard meantime of the mild strain growing in the Middle West and made inquiries regarding it. An exchange of seed and specimens made clear the fact that we had the quality desired.

"Within a very few years experiment stations in the interior states have been testing the plant with good results. In Wyoming, feeding tests have been carried on which show the same forage value as alfalfa. In Iowa, where Melilot has been pastured for five years, cattle turned from summer feed topped the market for that grade, bringing $6.25 per hundred in the Chicago market. This is in consonance with the writer's experience through several years. Both under pasture and when cured in proper condition he has found it more acceptable to all kinds of stock than any other forage. It is very consoling to know that after fifteen years' study of an outlawed plant, under stress of hostile opinion, the good qualities noted have been all affirmed by the highest agricultural authority.

"The fertilizing value of the plant is, after all, its highest quality. To this its biennial growth lends itself. In its first year the root sends up a single leafy stem, which makes a very vigorous fall growth and stores up a large amount of plant food in its thickened, fleshy roots. These are often two or three feet long and over an inch in diameter at the crown and with the fibrous feeders, reach deeply into the soil, to permanent moisture. The amount of this root growth is several times greater than that of clover or alfalfa. My own tests gave over twenty tons per acre in favorable conditions. Prof. Stone of the New York experimental station, has made estimates as high as twenty-eight tons. This enormous root growth when combined with the nitrogen secretions gives the largest possible fertilizing value. The fibrous rooting forms bear the bacterial growths as beads on their roots. On these fleshy roots the nitrogen bodies form warty knobs on the surface. The biennial growth of the plant aids in another way. The dense interlocking mass of fleshy roots rapidly decay as soon as the seed matures, leaving the soil deeply interpenetrated by their tissues and their humus in the best possible form of fertilization of the soil. Proofs of this fertilizing quality are so common within the area of its spread that this point is conceded at once by those who have not voted its value as forage. Its evidence is patent wherever the grass sod succeeds the melilot on the roadside. It is still more manifest where the plant has overrun a bed of sand or gravel. The growth of the legume is generally succeeded by a fine grass sod. The same result is shown in a large way on the worn out cotton lands of the South. Twenty-five years ago large areas of these lay bare of vegetation, burned by the sun, cut and gorged by the rains. Much of this land has since been overgrown by sweet clover and in every case the fertility of the soil has been largely restored, so that in this section where the bitter strain renders it unfit for forage it is highly esteemed as a fertilizer.

"One of the most remarkable instances of complete change of condition comes to our knowledge from Australia. King's Island lies off its south coast, is thirty-five miles long, mountainous in its center, the coast plain covered with sand dunes. It was a desert until a little seed was washed ashore from a wreck on the coast. The sweet clover sown spread over the whole island, knitting the shifting sand together, and in a little while changing it into a rich brown loam. Other vegetation soon followed; stock raising was begun and in a little while the island maintained the chief cattle market on the coast. (To Be Continued.)

How a Santa Ana Citizen Found Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles

—If you suffer from backache—
From urinary disorders—
From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Santa Ana people testify:
Here's one case of it:
P. P. Fraser, 1642 Regent street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I have known and have been an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills for some three years. Symptoms which gave evidence of weak kidneys were very pronounced in my case. For a long time I was subject to attacks of pain in my back and I was caused much annoyance by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions at night. When I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills my condition was considerably worse than it had been for a long time, but it did not take this excellent medicine long to remove the pains and other troubles. I feel that I have every reason to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement" (Statement made March 8, 1907.)

Confirmed Proof
On August 11, 1909, Mr. Fraser was interviewed and he said: "I still hold Doan's Kidney Pills in high esteem and I gladly confirm my former endorsement of them. I have been free from every symptom of kidney complaint since this remedy cured me."

NOT SAN FRANCISCO BUT ACROSS THE BAY

SAN FRANCISCO Feb. 21.—Tex Rickard yesterday threw up the sponge. He said San Francisco was his choice for the Jeffries-Johnson fight. In the same breath he hurled defiance at John Herget, chairman of the police commission of the supervisors, which grants fight permits, practically putting San Francisco proper out of the running. It is practically certain that the fight will be either at Point Richmond or Ocean View in Alameda county.

ROMANCE OF WHITE MAN AND JAPANESE WIDOW

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—Sam Mitchell, formerly a logger at Aberdeen, now owner of a lodging house here, and Mrs. Fuera Terada, have married. This is the first instance in the records of King county of an American man marrying a Japanese wife, and ends a real romance. Mitchell first saw his wife here, when she and her husband were running a curio store in Aberdeen four years ago, and later he vowed he would marry her. Later the Japanese husband went crazy and died. The widow came to Seattle and the wedding followed.

Out of the thirty desirable towns and cities in the state of California from a theatrical standpoint twenty-one will be visited by the Belasco and Mayer Alcazar Touring Company, presenting the greatest dramatic sensation of a decade, "St. Elmo."

The places to be finally fixed upon in this special tour will be fixed upon by some means devised by Mr. Frederick Belasco.

He has decided to put it up to the best people in the leading towns and the twenty-one localities which promise the most generous support will be finally decided upon.

Not only is an advance expenditure necessary from a business standpoint to cover the heavy expense in connection with this exquisite production, but the local spirit of appreciation will be taken as a criterion as to whether additional successes under the Belasco management are to be sent to our city in the future.

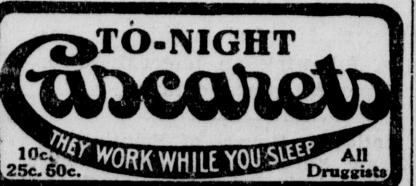

St. Elmo

Springing stronger than ever from the great disaster of three years ago, and surviving with the complacent ease of the fittest the usual depression of a large theatrical business, Belasco & Mayer have proven their stability second to none in the precarious work of entertaining the public, and by reason of recent contrasts, far reaching in their effects, are enabled to purchase for the entire Western country the greatest and most recent of New York, London and Paris successes, first of which is "St. Elmo," which comes here Monday, Feb. 21.

One Great Show After Another

The Temple Theater attractions this season are so varied and out of the ordinary that one begins to wonder, and ask, "How can the next program excel the last?" But Manager Roberts has them booked, and they are coming in regular order, and as he does not allow price nor trouble to stand between the entertainment of his patrons and the securing of a desirable number, he has the best and most popular attractions seeking engagements at the Temple. Tonight's show is big and good. Tuesday next, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, a big special matinee and night show, including the grand musical treat by Prof. and Mme. END STOMACH TROUBLE NOW

Dyspepsia, Gas, Heartburn or Indigestion Go in Five Minutes

—As there is often some one in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapepsin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula plainly printed on these 50 cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes; and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefy in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poison the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Pape's Diapepsin.

The best news in a business line that has come over the wires for many a day is that contained in the comments on Taft's Lincoln Day address by our leading financiers. They see in it the elements of continued prosperity.

Two features of the speech seem to impress them greatly. In the first place, it removed all doubt of the intentions of the administration. There are no "ifs nor ands" about what he said. Absolute certainty was the prevailing note of his discussion of all the topics handled. This argues for permanency and stability, without which there can be no real prosperity. Nothing is so timid as money and before it will come out and circulate freely, there must be assurances as to the reliability of prevailing values; in other words, public confidence. These assurances the business men of the country have gathered from the president's address, and now they know what to depend upon so far as he is concerned.

The next item on which they comment with favor will prove a surprise to many. It is his attitude toward the trusts that are violating the law. Instead of causing trepidation in financial circles it seems to have had just the opposite effect. In this regard it must be remembered that the business outlaws of the country do not include all its business interests. As a matter of fact, they are the exception and their operations are as objectionable and injurious to legitimate business interests as to the people as a whole. Honest business men, therefore, welcome the president's reaffirmed intentions to prosecute the lawless as assuring protection to the law-abiding in business, and they do not hesitate to hail his determination in this regard with the same enthusiasm as does the country at large.

As the recognized interpreter of business conditions and of the business mind of the country, the comments of Henry Clews on the president's speech come first, and here they are:

"The president shows a firm attitude against the law breakers. The laws are for all alike and there can be no discrimination between individuals and corporations."

This from the United States Steel Corporation: "The president's speech is candid, clear and convincing—a friendly message to business and timeliness. The president intends to bring about adjustments that will not disturb the prosperity which existing conditions demand."

This from the president of the New York Central: "The president's speech is reassuring and will tend to inspire confidence."

This from Theodore P. Shonts: "The speech is a note of firmness that is welcomed by the business interests of the country."

J. Ogden Armour says: "On the whole I believe this talk of the president will tend to restore business confidence and to dispel much uncertainty which has recently been in evidence."

Even those who have been and are being accused of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust law will now settle down to business with the understanding that they must answer for the methods employed. The result will be to give a new impetus to development and all legitimate business enterprises. As to those enterprises not so classed, the less we have of them the better.

The reports from the railroads for January, showing an increase of 13.5 per cent over the earnings for the corresponding month last year, ought to furnish some grounds for the hope that by and by the people who patronize them may indirectly share in their prosperity in the shape of a reduction of rates. But will they?

Stay where you are "young man and grow up with the country." When Horace Greely advised you to go west he knew what he was talking about, and now that you are here stay with it. The country is growing to beat the band and all you have to do to gain a competence is to keep up with the procession.

Don't lose sight of the fact that financial misfortunes are always a possibility, and also that by the practice of economy they can be greatly discounted in advance. Besides self-denial at a time when it is not necessary makes it come easy when required.

Biddy is not credited with even average animal intelligence, but the persistence with which she stays by a "settin' of eggs" affords an example which some very pretentious people might follow to their profit.

Steel cars to take the place of the ancient wooden ones is a welcome announcement to the traveling public, as both safety and comfort are enhanced thereby.

The Political Watchtower

The Orange county Democrats have to change their system somewhat this year as the result of the primary law. They used always to wait until after the Republicans had their county convention before meeting to nominate the Democratic ticket. If there was any particularly weak looking spot in the Republican line-up the Democrats did their best to rustle a good Democrat to shoot at the weak spot. This year, with the primaries of all parties coming on the same day, August 16, the Democrats cannot wait to pick the alleged weak spots. They must lay their plans ahead.

So far in the campaign there has been but little doings among the Democrats. There will be a meeting next Saturday to look over the situation. It is well known that J. C. Joplin will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for treasurer, that Theo. Lacy undoubtedly will be the choice for the nomination for sheriff and that H. C. Head will be the Democrat to go to it against S. M. Davis or L. A. West, whoever of the two gets the Republican nomination.

There has been some talk that Linebarger might not be a candidate again for supervisor, but there is talk also that the hesitation is not deep seated. Linebarger, though a Democrat, has been as close as a bug in a rug to MacMullen, Republican, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and Lester, auditor.

MacMullen, Linebarger and Lester were never known—in the open at least—to part on any proposition. Sometimes MacMullen and Linebarger got Angle to stand with them. In fact, Angle generally stood with them up to the time that Talbert came aboard in Moore's place, and since then MacMullen has not found it necessary to cultivate Angle quite so assiduously.

A number of transactions of this Board of Supervisors will be remarked upon during the coming campaign. Among the matters that have attracted some notice is this: Dr. W. S. McFarlane of Anaheim was county veterinarian and was paid $1000. At that salary every vet in the county hankered for the job with a real hanker. By rescinding the inspection ordinance McFarlane was let out amid rumors of dissatisfaction with him among certain cattlemen who had to deal with him. A new inspection ordinance was passed. After Dr. Stevens failed to qualify Dr. McFarlane was re-elected to the job with his salary at $1500.

Lardless Cookery.
Horseless carriages, wireless telegraphy, and now lardless cookery! Lard, from time immemorial, held sway in the kitchen, but it has one fatal objection—it is indigestible. Nine-tenths of the indigestion with which the American nation is afflicted is due to the use of pork and its by-product—lard.

Recognizing this, The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago, have placed on the market a vegetable oil cooking fat, Cottole, which can be used in every way that lard or butter can, and which makes delicious, digestible and nourishing food. It is recommended by physicians, even to invalids, and it is cheaper than lard, one-third less being required.

announcement that he is a candidate before the Republicans of the first district for their nomination for supervisor, which position he has held faithfully and conscientiously for two terms. Mr. Smith goes out seeking re-election with the knowledge that his constituents have not suffered by any of his acts in office. He has voted on matters that came before the Board of Supervisors according to the view he took of them absolutely regardless as to whether his vote helped him personally and politically or not. His self has been subservient to what he thought was for the best interests of the county. He has never been lined up with any political clique, and goes before the people as the candidate of no faction.

Mr. Smith has a host of friends. He came to Santa Ana first in 1876, and has lived here ever since, except a short time spent in his former home, Kansas. He is in the cement contracting business.

At the age of 17 years Smith cast his first vote for president, and that vote was for Abraham Lincoln, in 1864. At that time Mr. Smith was a member of the Thirtieth Kansas with the Army of the Frontier, and Kansas by special order allowed all her soldiers to vote regardless of age.

Nobody ever accused H. E. Smith of a dishonest act. He is an upright citizen in every particular. His hearty handshake is proverbial, likewise his good humor.

J. C. Lamb, who holds the office of county tax collector, is asking the Republicans of Orange county to name him as their 1910 candidate for the office. Mr. Lamb's office has been no soft snap. In fact, it has been a place where the man who held it had a night and day struggle to make a living out of it. When Mr. Lamb was elected to the place he had no idea what he was going to face. He did not know that a big share of the salary of the office had to be paid out to deputies, and there was but a morsel left for the tax collector. Any man would have been more tempted to resign, but Mr. Lamb took the view that such a course would be breaking faith with the voters and taxpayers, and he stuck to his desk. Now that the legislature has changed the compensation so that the office brings a reasonable compensation, Mr. Lamb very naturally believes he is asking no more than is due him when he asks to be returned to the office.

He runs on his record. His books in spite of every obstacle have been kept in A No. 1 shape, and his treatment of patrons has been gentlemanly at all times.

Mr. Lamb came to this county in 1887, and worked on a ranch at Tustin for several years. For a number of years before he was elected tax collector three years ago, he was a photographer in Santa Ana.

"Johnny" Lamb is a mighty popular fellow, and always has been among those who knew him. His friends feel that he is pretty close to certain of nomination and just as close to certain to election.

Louis A. Durfee, for seven years supervising principal of the Orange city schools, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for county superintendent of schools. He has adopted as his platform: "A businesslike administration, and a progressive and efficient supervision of schools, especially rural schools."

Mr. Durfee has had a large experience in school work as a training leading up to his aspirations for the county superintendency. He is 40 years of age, a native of New York and a graduate of Cortland (N. Y.) Normal School, where he took a four-year classical course. He has also taken summer work at the University of California.

He has had twenty years of experience as a teacher, seventeen of which have been in five counties of California. Before coming to Orange seven years ago he was for five years principal of Hollywood school, Los Angeles county. He has been and is now a member of the county board of education, and understands the workings of the school system from that point of view. He has had a large experience in book-keeping.

Mr. Durfee is an energetic worker, an enthusiastic Republican and a man in whom his friends and neighbors have confidence.

Commenting upon the alleged candidacy of Congressman S. C. Smith of this district for United States senator the Riverside Press says:

"We do not know how much there is in this report from Los Angeles, published in the Press last night, regarding the candidacy of Congressman Smith for the senate. We are rather inclined to doubt its correctness, as we doubt if Mr. Smith could secure sufficient support in Los Angeles to warrant his making the race. His attitude on the Owens river matter has made him many enemies in Los Angeles; and while we think his position was right, as the representative of Inyo county, we can hardly imagine the people of the city of Los Angeles consenting to have him placed in the still more influential position of senator while many matters regarding the aqueduct are still pending and several important points of controversy between the people of Inyo county and the city are still unsettled.

"Smith would make an excellent senator, and he would be much more useful there than any new man who is without congressional experience. Smith as the successor of Flint and Needham as the successor of Perkins, would be a good proposition for the state and a well-deserved promotion to the two strongest men we now have from this state in the house.

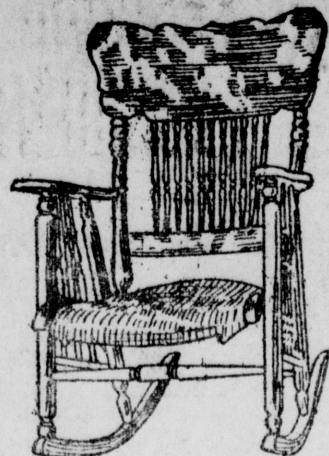

"If Smith would enter the race for the senate, there will be a lively contest for his place in the house. Senator Wright of San Diego will undoubtedly go after it, and Orange county has at least two candidates in training, C. C. Chapman and Assemblyman Melrose. Warren John of San Luis Obispo is another possibility, and H. C. Booth of Santa Barbara might very likely try again; he was a candidate when Captain Daniels was nominated. Senator Roseberry of that city is another coming man from that section; and we presume Ventura county could be relied on to produce a candidate. Riverside county has a strong man in A. F. Call of Corona, and it might not take much rustling to find two or three more.

"But Smith has not announced himself for the senate as yet, and we do not feel at all sure that he will do so."

For many years Alice L. Armour has published the Orange Post and cultivated her memory and when a woman wants to dig up old personalities she always knows right where to go to look for them. The following is told on the authority of the Post. It was away back in 1896, on May 12th, that a Republican state convention was held at Sacramento. P. A. Stanton lived in Orange then and was one of the eight delegates from that county. Stanton wanted to be state committeeman from that county and persuaded the delegation to select him, which it did, but Stanton was politically a little off-color in those days, as he has been at times since then, and the delegation rescinded its action and selected in his place H. W. Chynoweth of Anaheim. This made Phil hot all the way through and he not only read the riot act to the delegation but informed them that "We'll see that you get nothing in the future." On being asked whom he meant by "we" he retorted, "Why, the railroad that furnished you transportation to bring you here; now you may get home the best way you can." They did. The walking wasn't real bad down through the valley then because it was yet early and not very hot. Nevertheless the incident has not been forgotten in Orange county where the joke speedily leaked out. It appears to have been too, all the lesson Orange needed, for it has been "organization" ever since, and Stanton and his "We, the railroad," have been doing business off and on from that day to this. Will Mrs. Armour kindly dig up some more old recollections? They are both interesting and illuminating.—California Weekly.

Richard P. Mitchell, though comparatively a young man, can lay claim to pioneership, for he was born at Garden Grove thirty-five years ago. At the present time he is county superintendent of schools, and it is his desire that he be nominated by the Republican party for that office at the August primaries. Mitchell received his common school education in the Orange county schools, and prepared himself for the teaching profession in the Los Angeles State Normal. He taught in the schools of the county for ten years. The last four years of that time he was a member of the county board of education. Thus by education and experience, as well as by his eminent personal qualifications, he is exceptionally well fitted to be county superintendent of schools. His work in the office since his appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of his predecessor has proven his worth. He found the office unsystematized. He put it into system, and he has brought the schools of the county to a high standard by a progressive working policy. Among his verification clerks are two fellow members of the county school board, E. M. Nealley of Tustin and J. F. Walker of Anaheim.

Recently appointed verification deputies are: For G. S. Smith, candidate for coroner and public administrator, T. E. Niles of Garden Grove; for S. M. Davis, for district attorney, W. A. Colonial Social Tonight

The long anticipated and planned for colonial social to be given by the Ladies Canton, I.O.O.F., will take place tonight at the Odd Fellows hall. Costumes of the old colonial days will be worn by the ladies, and the hall will present a pretty scene with its various embellishments.

The proceeds of the social will be devoted to a fund being raised by the Odd Fellows and their ladies for the entertainment of the delegates to the grand I.O.O.F. encampment, to be held here next October. As this is a project in which every person in Santa Ana is more or less interested, the public will doubtless be ready to lend a helping hand by a generous attendance tonight. They will be well repaid, as the ladies will make the affair a pleasing one.

ing meeting is expected, as a paper of much power will be presented by O. M. Robbins, on "The New Thought Movement." As New Thought, under many phases, is one of the absorbing topics of the day, this paper will be listened to attentively.

Parliamentary Section

This section met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. I. D. Mills, with a most interesting meeting as a result. The ladies of the section are becoming rapidly familiar with parliamentary usage, and derive much pleasure from the entertaining and wit-sharpening study.

Mrs. Mills presided over the meeting of Saturday, with Mrs. Wilcox continuing the drill on motions.

Pleasant Afternoon

A very charming afternoon was spent Saturday by the guests of Mrs. H. T. Duckett, who was at home to a few of her friends invited to meet Mrs. W. J. Williams of Pasadena. Social chat and beautiful music numbers from an elegant new Victor phonograph lately installed in the Duckett home, passed the hours delightfully. The serving of delectable refreshments was the hospitable close of the afternoon. Mrs. Duckett's guests were Mesdames Roscoe Whitte, Baumgartner, Ella Palmer, E. S. Gilbert, E. E. Vincent, Robert Shaffer, M. Goodwin, P. G. Beisel.

Helen Goff Concert

The final event of the Star Entertainment course took place at Spurgeon's Hall Friday night, the attraction being the Helen Goff Concert Company. Holders of tickets and others made up a fairly large audience and the program was well received. Miss Goff, the soprano soloist, pleased her hearers with her singing, and Miss Lillian Ossing proved an able monologist. Miss Agnes Buessert gave good support as an accompanist. Mr. Wilford Collins, promoter of the Star course, deserves great credit for his enterprise in providing the people of Santa Ana with so meritorious a series of entertainments, and should he decide to continue in the line of bringing in attractions, is quite sure to have the support of the public.

George Washington Party

Mr. and Mrs. A. Schlusman entertained for their son Glen, last Friday evening at their beautiful home on South Grand. The home was interestingly decorated with high school and college pennants.

The guests were received by the little Misses Mildred Bouton and Edyth Tollman attired in George and Martha Washington costumes. Music was furnished by Miss Cecil Barnett, Miss Mattie Abbott and Glen Schlusman. Mr. Louis Chaudet, a cousin of Glen Schlusman, gave two excellent readings, he also sang several songs during the evening. Games and contests were the other amusements of the evening. Prizes were won by Miss Nell Kennedy, Mr. Raymond Waite, and Fenly Matthews.

The favors of the evening were small hatchets. The national colors prevailed in the refreshments.

The guests were members of the Business College and their friends. Those present were: Misses Jessie Adams, Margery Condon, Mattie Abbott, Evelyn Abbott, Mina Halderman, Neil Kennedy and Cecil Barnett, and Messrs. Fenly Matthews, George Adams, Ray Wilson, G. Schlusman, Grant Halderman, Raymond Waite, Louis Chaudet, Vene Hillyard and Leonard Halderman.

Cafeteria Supper

The cafeteria supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church Friday night proved decidedly successful, the attendance being large and the supper of the best.

Birthday Dinner

A surprise family dinner was given Mr. W. G. Wells yesterday at noon, the occasion being his birthday. A large birthday cake adorned the dining table, which was prettily decorated with flowers.

The guests outside the family were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Andrews and daughter, of Pasadena, and Mr. C. J. Wells of Los Angeles.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The W. C. T. U. will meet on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Viola Norman, 202 East Sixteenth street. This is the "Willard Memorial" meeting and will be in charge of Mrs. Norman. Mrs. Vawter and Mrs. Jones. The members are requested to bring an offering for the Willard "Memorial Fund." Each one is urged to bring a friend with them to this important meeting. Owing to sickness the meeting has been changed from the home of Mrs. Keech to Mrs. Norman's as formerly announced.

Farmers' Club Meeting

The Santa Ana Farmers' Club met Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pulver on Santa Clara avenue. Though the evening was rainy, there were sixteen present, who enjoyed the paper on "Mellot or Sweet Clover," by Prof. Ira M. Buell of Beloit College, and the talk on the county road bonds by A. D. Bishop. Both subjects brought out much discussion, which was very instructive as well as interesting.

The resignation of Mrs. Barton as secretary and treasurer of the club was accepted, and Mrs. A. D. Bishop was elected to succeed Mrs. Barton. Miss Nellie Hutnington furnished an instrumental and vocal number.

The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Nisson, North Main street, on March 26. The topic will be, "County Road Bonds," continued, when Dr. Dobson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will present his views on the question as vital to our highways.

After singing "America," the club adjourned. The paper written by Prof. Buell is published elsewhere in the Register.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Some Advice Against the Use of Harsh Purgatives and Physics

—A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver. This condition poisons the system with waste matter and causes accumulation of gases which must be removed through the bowels before health can be restored.

Salts, ordinary pills and cathartics may be truly likened to dynamite. Through their harsh, irritating action they force a passage through the bowels, causing pain and damage to the delicate intestinal structure which weakens the whole system, and at best only produces temporary relief. The repeated use of such treatments causes chronic irritation of the stomach and bowels, dries and hardens their tissues, deadens their nerves, stiffens their muscles and generally brings about an injurious habit which sometimes has almost, if not fatal results.

We have a pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of its great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case where it fails to produce entire satisfaction. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies. We urge you to try them at our entire risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly and have a soothing, strengthening, healing, regulative influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effects, and they may be taken at any time without inconvenience.

Rexall Orderlies overcome the druging habit and safely remedy constipation and associate ailments, whether acute or chronic, except in surgical cases. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Price, 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Santa Ana only at our store.—The Rexall Store, Dean's Drug Store.

ASKS DISMISSAL OF INDICTMENT: COURT REFUSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Indictments against John Martin, F. H. Drum and Eugene D. Sabie, officials of the San Francisco Gas & Electric Co., returned against them by the Oliver grand jury which was the forerunner of the graft prosecution, were recommended for dismissal by Dist. Atty. Fickert Saturday on the ground of insufficient evidence. This action followed his recent request for the dismissal of similar indictments against Calhoun and other officials of the United Railroads. The three are charged with indictments of having offered bribes to the Ruef-Schmitz board of supervisors. Judge Lawlor refused to dismiss the indictments.

The Relation the Party Bears to All of Them and What It Should Do In Each Case—The Anti-Saloon League IS "Touched Up"

PART II.

We are often asked this question: "Why is it that the Anti-Saloon League endorse so many candidates the Liquor League also endorses?" There are many reasons for this, but the only one we care to note here is this: Nearly all the League representatives are either a preacher or some church member who is controlled, perhaps often unconsciously, by his preacher.

A minister ordinarily likes to say nice things about his congregation. He cultivates flattery, often to such a point that it becomes distasteful. A FLATTERER IS ALWAYS EASILY FLATTERED, and to be FLATTERED is only one way to be FOOLED. These candidates, who have no idea of standing for either a prohibition, or even a local option bill, if elected, slip around to the Anti-Saloon League leader, generally a preacher, and tell him, in secret, of course, how they yearn to go to the legislature, and what an awful thing the liquor traffic is. Soon it is announced that the League candidate is elected. The legislature meets, and the Anti-Saloon League representatives begin at once to lobby with meeting at Louisville, after it had become full grown, and when any one should have been able to see in its very face the counterpart of its father, AND ADOPTED IT.

As to Other Organizations

It would be foolish to attempt, in one article, to mention all the other organizations even of a national scope organized with the avowed purpose of combating the liquor traffic. But in justice to them they are not POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS (the League is strictly a POLITICAL ORGANIZATION) and not being POLITICAL, do not CLASH WITH THE PROHIBITION PARTY, or with any other party. For us to oppose them would be unkind, ungrateful and unwise. But bear in mind that when we quit our party work and help any one of these organizations, we are doing our party a great injustice, and one for which there is absolutely no excuse. Working for these other organizations is not doing party work, and only by PARTY work can we ever hope to make votes.

So the Prohibition party has the utmost of good feeling for all these minor organizations, but it must in every instance, and in every honorable way, FIGHT THE LEAGUE TO ITS VERY DOORSTEP, just as the Prohibition party fights the Democratic and Republican parties. The League is a political organization. It is NOT, and never HAS been, and never WILL be, anything but the bitterest enemy the Prohibition party has.

Many people who have heretofore affiliated with the League are good men, just as many who vote the Democratic and Republican tickets are splendid, fine fellows. It is to the League's advantage to get the Prohibition party out of the way, and it is to the PARTY'S advantage to get the League out of the way. And this is why CLEAN POLITICS has chosen an open battlefield with the League. We propose to hammer, and hammer hard, on the most vulnerable points of the Anti-Saloon League, and these points are the alliances the League makes with corrupt politicians—such alliances, if they were known, as would not be tolerated for one moment by the churches. The League deals; that's its political stock in trade; it options off, to the highest bidder, to either party presumably, but as a matter of fact in the North to the Republican party only, the WHOLE VOTE OF THE CHURCH, and sometimes the sale is for such a small consideration that the goods are not worth delivering. The League can't succeed unless the old parties succeed; and if the old parties succeed, the Prohibition party fails.

The duller mind cannot fail to comprehend the point. If you are with the League, you cannot be a PROHIBITIONIST; if you are a Prohibitionist, you cannot be with the League. You can no more be a Prohibition Party-Anti-Saloon-League man than you can be a Prohibition Party-Republican, or a Prohibition Party-Democrat. We will go one step further. You cannot be an honest man if you try to be an Anti-Saloon League man and a Prohibitionist at the same time, for the League works at the PRIMARIES, and NO HONEST PROHIBITIONIST can legally participate in an old party primary. In almost every state the primary laws strictly prohibit the members of one party from participating in the primaries of another party—and no thoughtful, good citizen is going to break the laws of his state; yet after all this, the League speakers, in church pulpits, and on Sundays, actually urge PROHIBITIONISTS TO VOTE AT OLD PARTY PRIMARY ELECTIONS, thus trying to persuade law-abiding, good citizens, as Prohibitionists must be, to break a law which controls the suffrages of the state. Now what are you—an Anti-Saloon League man or a Prohibitionist? YOU CAN'T BE BOTH; and you see it, don't you?

We truly hope that no minister who reads this, and no good citizen who reads this, will ever again be found coaxing Prohibitionists to become law-breakers by doing what all men censure Democrats and Republicans for doing—trying to nominate candidates for a party opposite to that to which they belong. The very nature of the League itself COMPELS an honest Prohibitionist, when he joins the League, to at the same time announce his severance from the Prohibition party.

TO THE AUTO BUYING PUBLIC

Here Are a Few Points on the Four Cylinder Reo Car, Which We Hope the Public Can Use to Their Advantage

In the first place, the Reo car always delivers the goods. Our factory has never made a product that did not give complete satisfaction. There is no question but what the Reo has more friends among the competitive trade than any car in America. Every one speaks a good word for it, especially its users.

Holds World's Non-stop Record
Aside from the dependability of the Reo, we call your attention to the fact that it was a Reo car that ran 4992 miles, under the auspices of representatives of the Los Angeles Times, without stopping the engine. This stands today as the world's record for any car selling for less than $2500.00, and there has been but one other car of any price that has made another record.

Over 10 Per Cent of Total Registration Are Reos
Out of the total registrations of less than 28,000 cars, over 3000 of them are Reos; or in other words, over ten per cent of the entire cars registered in this state are Reo cars, while there are in Los Angeles alone, in the neighborhood of two hundred makes of automobiles sold.

Advantages of the Inlet Valve
One of the strongest points on the new Reo four-cylinder car is the Inlet Valve in the head and the Exhaust valve down at the side of the engine. This mode of construction gives us all the advantage of the value in the head motor with the added advantage of putting the exhaust valve where a larger water jacket can be conveniently placed around it. This is as cool a running motor as is made anywhere, which is further due to the fact that the motor was designed for a Thermo Syphon car and was a successful one at that, only several of the very largest buyers of Reo cars, including myself, petitioned the factory not to put out a Thermo Syphon car, because it gave us one more point in favor of Reo cars. You can readily see when an engine designed for a Thermo Syphon cooling, when you add a gear Centrifugal Pump to that system, you have got practically a double system of radiation.

Has the Most Perfect Rear Axle
We also call your attention to the new rear axle, which is designed by Mr. Olds and which is not a full floating type axle. This axle is designed for service, and not for a selling point. I think you will agree with me that there never has been a full floating type rear axle that can be absolutely depended upon. The nearest approach to a perfect axle of the full floating type is the axle used on the Franklin car and this fell to pieces on them in the recent Phoenix race.

Finish Equal to $3000 Cars
We also wish to call your attention to the exterior finish of the Reo car. The best grade of leather and curled hair is used in its cushions; the running boards and foot boards are of aluminum; the finish is equal to any $3000 car on the market. There is a decided absence of "rattles" in the four cylinder Reo.

As to Transmission
Next, we wish to call your attention to the Transmission, and without going into the mechanical part of this transmission, we merely wish to say that there never has been a transmission in any car at any price that shifted any easier than this one does, and mighty few of them as easy.

The Most Complete Equipment
We next call your attention to the fact that this car comes equipped with a magneto, tail lamp, two oil lamps, two gas lamps, tire irons and a trunk rack. While on this subject, will say that this car would have sold just as easy if it had not any of the lamps on it or any of the extra equipment. The Reo people put it on absolutely gratis.

Spring Troubles Practically Unknown
All users of the Reo car, of course, know as well as I do that Spring Trouble is practically unknown to a Reo car. This is due entirely to the fact that we have used the very best grade of oil tempered springs and have placed our contracts with people who have furnished Packard and other high grade springs of exactly the same quality.

Motor is Almost Noiseless
We do not think that there is a four cylinder car on the market that has a quieter motor than the four cylinder; if there is, we have not heard it.

We also call your attention to the clean cut appearance of the Reo motor, having its magneto, pump and cam shaft all on one shaft.

Has the Stromberg Carburetor
Most of the cars put out to the present time have been equipped with the Stromberg Carburetor. This Carburetor is a first class article, used on a great many of the high grade cars, such as the Apperson Car, etc., but we are pleased to announce that the Reo people have at last completed an invention of a Carburetor that is going to give this car considerably more power with less gasoline consumption. Advantages of the Left Hand Drive

The only point on the whole car that any one can make any objection to, is the left hand drive, and we can only say to defend it that, without any question, within the next three or four years, every manufacturer of any prominence in the world, will be putting out their cars in this way. It is the natural way to have it. Did you ever notice how many people on the street climb over their levers to get into their machine, rather than go around it and get in from the street. This is particularly unpleasant for a lady, especially in the city where the streets are sprinkled frequently, as it is necessary for them to get their feet damp or muddy to get into the car. Furthermore, according to the laws of this country, every car must stop on the right hand side of the road, thus making it more advantageous to drive from the left than from the right. If our system is wrong, why don't they dump passengers off the street cars on the left hand side instead of the right. Just as absurd, and in a few years will show the wisdom of this system. We might further say that the foreign cars, particularly England and France, are rapidly coming to the left hand drive. This simply means that all American manufacturers will follow suit in a year or two.

Originators of Many Improvements
The manufacturer who holds back the left hand drive on his car is a back number. This is a pretty broad statement but it is no broader than was made when we used the mechanical valve in 1901 on Oldsmobiles. Mr. Olds claimed it was the right system and that time would tell, and we defy you or any one else to point to a single automobile maker of any prominence in the world today, who is not using mechanical valves.

Again in 1903, Mr. Olds exhibited at the New York show the first side entrance tonneau car that was ever built. Every one thought it a freak. He told them to wait a couple of years and see what they thought of it, and today, they are all side entrance.

We can only say in regard to the left hand drive, that all you have to do is to ask the man who drives one. Trusting that these little points will be of assistance to you in making a selection of an automobile that is right, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
A. B. HENRICKSON,
Fourth Street Garage.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Major General Duvall, former assistant chief of staff, who has taken charge of the Philippine division, has come to the rescue of the Philippine scouts, the native soldiers of the islands.

The scouts are in an uncomfortable position. The regular army officers object to them because with them out of the way the regular army could be increased. Civilians often attribute to them the faults of the Philippine constabulary.

General Duvall, in his first annual report, takes up a large amount of space in defense of the scouts. In the first place, he insists that they are good soldiers. In the second, he says they are ready for work at all times, and in the third, they get on the best way they can, building their own camps or occupying posts abandoned by the regular army. In the fourth place, their pay is just one half that of the American soldier, and their rations cost one-half.

It appears that the American soldier, with the vaunted boast of superior civilization, is inferior to the scout in looking after himself. It has been found by the army surgeons that the scouts are almost free from those diseases which are most common in the ranks of the regular soldiery and which are the prime cause of the high non-effective rate.

Despite the fact that he does not receive the careful attention given to the regular, the Philippine scout is peculiarly free from the diseases of civilization. He is likely to die of beri-beri, but in the past year none died of alcoholism, whereas thirteen regulars succumbed to it.

On these and other grounds, General Duvall says: "I ask the War Department's constant support in all matters tending not only to abolish the evils but to increase the world of good now existing in this admirable body of troops."

The government is in need of a large number of male stenographers and typewriters, not only in Washington, but in various places throughout the country. Most of the positions pay $900 a year, though there are a few places where the salary is less, and a few at $1000.

From an Australian expert, sent to the United States to study up systems of economical marketing of farm products, comes a brand new suggestion as to eggs.

The expert's idea is the establishment of "egg circles" wherein all the farmers send their hen fruit to a secretary who grades and pays cash for the goods, forwarding them to the government "cooling" or storing houses. The government then sells to the retailer and is thus practically the only middleman, the secretary receiving only one per cent per dozen for the eggs he handles.

The system is in operation in several Australian states and it is reported will shortly be tested in Russia.

The Treasury Department has promulgated an opinion of the Attorney General relative to the requirement of state licenses of surety companies as a prerequisite to doing business with the United States.

Under the existing regulations of the department, a bond cannot be accepted by any officer in the treasury department if executed by a company or its agent in a state where the company has not obtained a state license.

Under the opinion just promulgated, the department rules that an officer may accept a bond if executed by a surety company at its home office or at an office outside of the boundaries of the state wherein it has no license, for a principal residing in such state or for a contract to be performed therein.

The attorney general holds that such bonds running to the United States are valid and enforceable against the company whether or not it maintains an agency in the state in which the principal resides, and that the execution of a bond in this manner would not be doing business within the state, within the meaning of the law.

More than usual interest attaches to the selection recently made by the Treasury Department of the site for the Federal building at Plymouth, Mass. For this purpose the property of the Baptist Church at Leyden and Main streets has been acquired.

It happens that these are the two oldest streets in the United States, having been laid out in 1620. The lot selected is the one originally assigned to William Brewster, the "Ruling Elder" of the Pilgrim Church. On this spot Brewster lived and disseminated that religious liberty which distinguishes the United States among the nations.

Governor Bradford's house was on the opposite corner, hardly 100 feet away, and at the head of the street is Town Square, overlooked by historic Burial Hill.

The Government House of the colony, which gave way in 1794 to the Court House, in 1820, became the Town House. The latter is still in use as the municipal office center, and is only 200 feet from the post-office site. The price paid for the site was $22,000.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

At a meeting of the produce and and commission men yesterday morning, it was decided to close all day on Tuesday—Washington's birthday. A few of the dealers will be forced on account of express shipments, to deliver some goods in the morning, but outside of this there will be no call on the exchange or business on the street.

There were few if any changes yesterday morning. The demand for today's trade was very good in all staple lines and in fresh goods that will keep. Bunch vegetables were particularly well called for and there was a big sale of cauliflower, lettuce and celery. Prices on these were all steady.

Arrivals of eggs were 333 cases. Local case count sold at 22½ to 22 cents on the street. A few coast eggs were reported in and brought a cent less than local stock. No changes were recorded in storage prices.

Butter arrivals totaled 16,999 lbs. Creamery extra sold very well and there was continued call for second grades. The market is still looking weak on account of prices in the east, which are lower than here.

Only 690 pounds of cheese was received. The cheese in best demand was Eastern longhorn. Some Edam arrivals have been light and there were not many offerings of the Northern cheese.

Potato receipts were 3119 sacks. The potato market was good. Prices were unchanged. A steady call for good potatoes still continues. Early Rose are most used for this purpose at the present time.

No onions were received. Some of the Northern Australian Brown sold at $1.60 in a jobbing way. A few Nevada onions were firm at the prevailing $2 quotation.

Six hundred sacks of beans arrived. Limas and small whites were well called for. Pinks were most plentiful in offerings.

Sweet potato receipts were 133 sacks. The market on sweets was fair. Prices were steady. A few red sweets are received, but there is little demand for them, or for the white ones on hand.

Bananas were in excellent call. Receipts of these have been very heavy in the past few days. Several new firms have embarked in the business and this leaves the market more than well supplied, most of the time. Prices are unsteady, there being some cutting to get rid of surplus stock.

Several large shipments of alligator pears from Mexico arrived. These were offered at $4 to $4.50 per dozen. Northern artichokes are still holding at $1.25. Some local artichokes are coming in, but they are of very inferior quality, and bring about 40 cents a dozen.

The fish market was absolutely cleaned up. There were no changes in the prices of local, all selling at the higher quotations which went into effect with the beginning of Lent.

PRICES CURRENT
EGGS—Fresh California ranch, candied extra select, 27; select, 25; fresh ranch local case counts, selling price, 22@22½; northern candied, 24; northern case counts, 21; eastern storage, 20; seconds, 18.

THE NEW FRUIT IS VALUABLE

James Fullerton at Orange
Successfully Grows Alligator Pear

Orange Daily News: Jas. Fullerton, former editor of the News, is engaged in the propagation of a fruit which may prove to be a commercial asset when its possibilities are determined. Mr. Fullerton, who at one time edited an agricultural paper, is an authority on horticultural subjects, as well as being a poultry fancier. He has been engaged in the study of the alligator pear with interesting results. Mr. Fullerton states that:

Avacados or Alligator pears are now quoted on the Los Angeles market at $5.00 per dozen. The fruit on the market is imported from the Hawaiian and West India Islands. It has been demonstrated that the Avacado can be successfully grown in Southern California, and an instance is well vouchered for in which over $400 was realized from a twelve year old tree in one year. The Avacado tree will withstand as much, if not more, frost as will the orange tree, and will thrive on any good soil with cultivation similar to that required to grow the orange tree successfully. It is not a very reliable bearer, as now grown here, the bearing trees all being seedlings—some bearing at three years from seed, while others do not bear until nine and even twelve years old, and the fruit varies greatly in size, shape and color. It is, however, susceptible to budding, so that the bearing and quality of the fruit may be controlled as the varieties best adapted to our locality are developed. The tree is evergreen, of beautiful form, and the leaves are pleasantly aromatic.

Trees five and eight years old in bloom can now be seen at the home of James Fullerton in Orange.

BROKE EVEN ON TWO GAMES

Local Team Lost to Santa Barbara Saturday, Won Yesterday

The Santa Barbara team won one and lost one game in the series played here Saturday and Sunday.

The Saturday game was played in the rain and was called in the eighth inning, with the score 4 to 0 in favor of Santa Barbara.

The Sunday game was won by the locals by the score of 3 to 0. It was again a plain case of too much Johnson. The big fellow fanned fifteen of the visitors and allowed but four hits.

Joe Burke umpired, and was there with the goods, calling balls and strikes to the satisfaction of all present.

The score by innings:

Saturday's Game

Santa Barbara ... 1 0 2 0 0 1 0 0—4

Batteries—Shafer, McCay and B. Whaling; Henrichs and Meats. Umpires—Harlin and Raney.

Batteries—McCay and B. Whaling; Johnson and Meats. Umpires—Burke and Harlin.

SANTA ANA'S NEW SCHOOL BUILDINGS

New Structures Occupied Today Are Both Handsome and Commodious

Two of the four new school buildings, for which the people of Santa Ana voted $75,000, have been completed and were occupied for the first time today, Feb. 21.

The new Lincoln grammar school on French street, is a one-story, nine-room building, commodious and well lighted. An oil heating plant with the fan system of ventilation, has been installed. The one-story plan for school buildings is a new feature in school architecture for this section of the state, but the plan has been strongly endorsed by all competent judges who have inspected the new Lincoln school.

The new manual training, domestic science and art building is a two-story structure, comprising a large and well lighted room for manual training work, with office and store rooms on the first floor. On the second floor is the domestic science department, comprising work room, dining room, store room and teachers' room, and the domestic art room, which is well equipped with sewing machines and tables.

The course in manual training, domestic science and art will be confined to the pupils of the grammar schools for the remainder of this year. Next year a thorough course in each department will be open to pupils of the high school.

The new commercial high school is in course of construction, to be completed about the middle of April. It is a brick, two-story structure, and comprises rooms for bookkeeping, banking, typewriting, shorthand, mechanical and free-hand drawing, an assembly room and class rooms.

The fourth new school building will be almost a duplicate of the new Lincoln school, and will be located on the corner of Ross and Seventeenth streets, for which a tract of three and one-half acres was last week purchased by the Board of Education. This building will be completed and ready for occupancy at the beginning of the fall semester.

Our work room now open with Miss Hepler of Chicago in charge. Miss O'Donnell, 115 West Fourth St.
